Football bettors love accumulators as they allow you to rack up massive potential profits by rolling multiple selections into a single bet. Some savvy punters have earned life-changing sums by laying down a relatively small stake and correctly predicting a number of football results.

It may be tempting to predict the outcome of the early televised game on a Saturday afternoon, but if you don't get it right your acca falls at the first hurdle and you're left cursing your luck as the rest of your bet is beat before most of the games have even kicked off!

The beauty of to the neutral observer is just how difficult it is to predict. The point is that predicting football outcomes is difficult, and so predicting five four or more on the same slip is extremely tough.

That's why punters can go weeks on end without landing a winner.

If both teams like taking risks and leave gaps at the back, you might go for 'yes';

If it is a clash between two mean defences, you might want to opt for 'no' in this market.

The number one league in the world is of course, the NBA and you can expect free NBA tips tonight and throughout the season.
