If you haven't bet on esports before then don't worry-it's easy to do! Many fans who have bet on sports before will know how esports betting works.

The principle is the same-you place a bet on an outcome you think will happen.

10. Then, once you've found your chosen odds, click on the price and enter your stake in the bet slip.

Once you've mastered betting on your favourite esports then you could consider branching out.

Multiple goals are also on offer in the online football betting markets so if you think a certain player will score twice or more, you can stake here too.

Correct Score, Both Teams to Score, Number of Goals and many more choices are now available across our sites as the betting community wants more innovation when it comes to their markets.

Now, you can stake on obscure leagues across the planet and if you know your football, you should find some value among those options.

Convenience is a big plus factor too when it comes to online football betting and whereas this used to require a trip into town, you can now stake on your selection with a few clicks of the mouse.

Overall, there are many reasons to play online and there's never been a better time to log on to your account and get involved.

Placing a live bet once the football game has started can often times prove more beneficial than placing a bet before.

A substitute, an injury, a card or a penalty can all change the whole course of a game.

At Unibet, we offer a huge variety of leagues and matches that you can choose from.
