What is AliExpress? Is it safe to shop on? Are there any security risks? We shop ped there several times and here's what we found.

Listing Tricks

AliExpress offers some excellent deals, but not all products are legit, and things are rarely as cheap as they initially seem. You can get all sorts of counterfeit items there, from electronics to clothing.

Unfortunately, this also depends upon the shipping method used. In 2018, Alibaba launched its own shipping service called Cainiao, with their own warehouses and shipping partners in major countries. Cainiao Global Economy, I have found, is terrible.

terrible.

AliExpress Standard Shipping, on the other hand, is usually delivered by Airmail

, then the last mile is handled by your standard local mail service (Royal Mail) Tj T* BT /F1

Packages over $150 value will not have VAT added automatically; this will be handled by the shipping company instead, and you'll also be liable for the additional handling charge, as well as possibly import duty.

I've had various credit cards stored in my AliPay account for a long time, and never experienced fraud. But bear in mind, I live in the EU, so my credit card is protected with chip-and-pin technology, as well as a verification code on the rear which isn't stored. US shoppers still suffer from decades-old financial technology that's a lot easier to commit fraud with.
